Microsoft Vista Compatibility

At ID Tech, there is a regular program to test & upgrade our Reader Products for compatibility to new industry requirements. The recent introduction of Microsoft's Vista Operating System is an example of a new operating requirement for our products. Many ID TECH reader products incorporate several intelligent interfaces for operation with PCs and similar platforms.

ID TECH has performed Vista compatibility testing on all our reader products when Vista is run as Administrator or when User Account Control set off. Our reader products function to the product requirements when used with the Vista Operating System.

New product introduction validation testing is performed with the Vista Operating System and retrograde testing is also performed with Windows XP and Windows 2000.
